Client message

Ashes into Glass® Jewellery

Ashes into Glass® jewellery is a symbol of eternal love and togetherness. Worn close or held in your hand, it creates a lasting connection with your loved one, allowing you to relive cherished moments. Each piece tells a deeply personal story, shining with its own unique character - sometimes reminiscent of a starry night sky, a drifting cloud, or ashes carried on a gentle breeze.

Founded in 2006, Ashes into Glass® has earned highly rated reviews from families who trust us with their most precious memories. Today, our service is available through our partner funeral homes. Your funeral director will guide you through the process, while our dedicated team carefully crafts your jewellery.

“ The most wonderful jewellery I could ever wear. ”

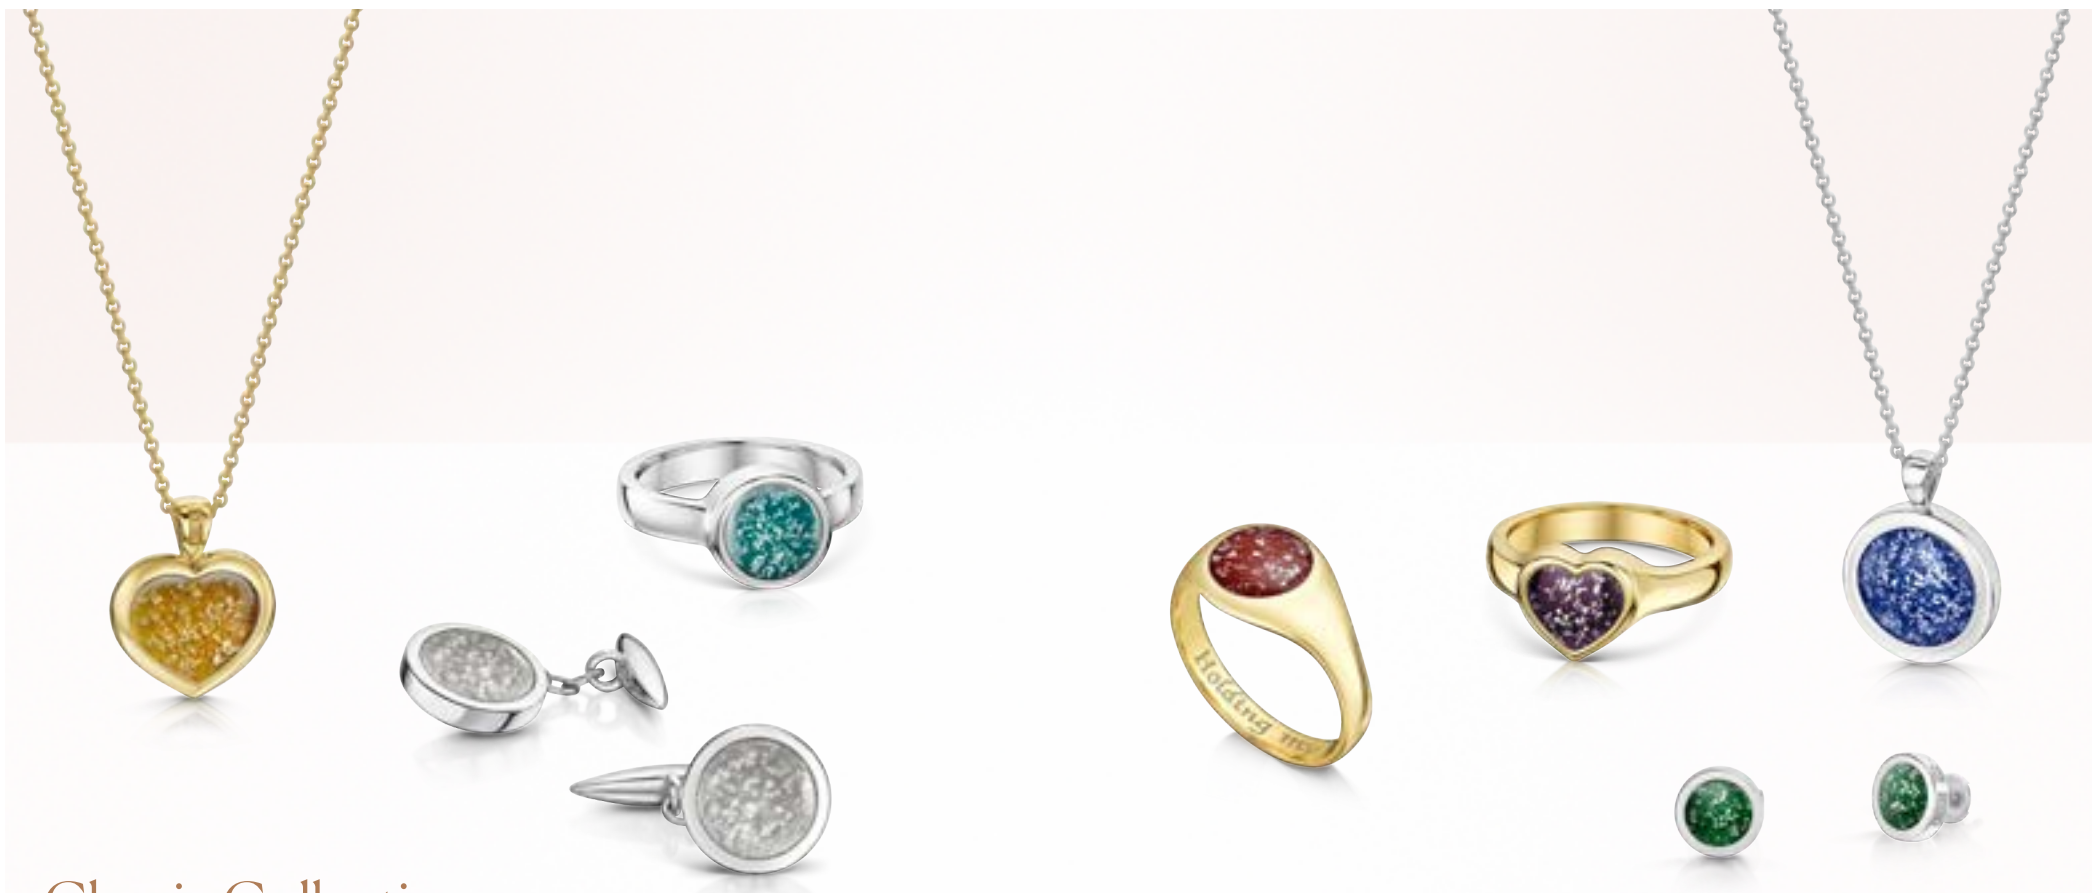

We transform your loved ones ashes into a gemstone of rare beauty, created by fusing them within molten crystal glass at 1200°C. Each stone is then set into a finely crafted design, becoming a lasting tribute and a daily reminder of the bond you share.

Our patented process ensures every gemstone holds a remarkable depth and brilliance, with layers of coloured and crystal glass giving dimension to the ashes within. Toughened for durability, your jewellery will remain as radiant as the day it was made, so it may be treasured and passed down through generations.

Ashes into Glass® keeps your loved ones close by wearing it or just holding it in your hand. No two stones are the same; each shines with a beauty that will stand the test of time, reflecting the bond you share with your loved ones.

When someone you love becomes a memory, that memory becomes a treasure.
